

THE OPEN SOURCE INFRASTRUCTURE CONFERENCE

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES 2020

WHAT IS stackconf ABOUT?

Key characteristics of the event

stackconf – THE OPEN SOURCE INFRASTRUCTURE CONFERENCE

The former Open Source Data Center Conference has already developed its profile from a mainly on-site approach to open source infrastructure solutions to a broader spectrum of continuous integration, container, hybrid and cloud solutions.

Trendsetting concepts, state-of-the-art technical expertise, innovative developments, top-level discussions and new perspectives in dealing with complex IT infrastructures have distinguished the event since 2009.

With the new conference format stackconf, the focus will be further intensified on innovative technology mixes for large infrastructures.

stackconf promotes an annual meeting of top open source specialists catching up on current know-how and initiating forward-looking projects.

Well-known international professionals present their ideas on the current challenges of modern IT infrastructures within the two-day lecture program.

The international stackconf audience includes renowned infrastructure specialists, industry leaders, experienced administrators and architects as well as a wide variety of open source community enthusiasts.

Expect exciting discussions, an intensive exchange of experiences, inspiring encounters and great networking opportunities with the multi-faceted field of participants!

As one of the leading open source infrastructure events in Europe the conference attracts more than 150 visitors per year and is firmly established in Berlin.
